

MERITEC® Associates' Testimonials

"I've never worked at a company that does so much for their employees. Management really cares, and since Meritec is considered an essential manufacturer, in addition to masks, sanitizer, personal thermometers, vitamins--daily healthy snacks and bottled spring water were supplied through the entire Covid-19 crisis."

Kim Sullens

MERITEC[®], a division of Associated Enterprises, was established over 50 years ago. Meritec designs and manufactures high-performance connectors and cable assemblies that are vitally important to the computer, instrumentation, medical, industrial, transportation, military, and aerospace communication industries.

The Company employs many people across the country with its manufacturing headquarters in Painesville. Meritec considers itself a small manufacturing company and uses its size to advantage. We are able to be more flexible, focused and responsive to our Customers, and our Associates are able to enjoy a home-like work atmosphere. This superior working environment is just one reason that people enjoy working for Meritec.

Our Connections Include:

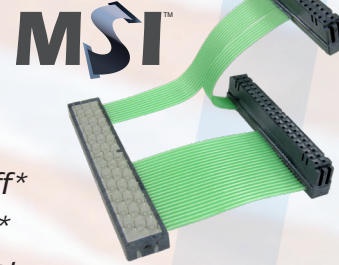

Apple, Boeing, Fresenius, GE Healthcare and Transportation, Google, Honeywell, Intel, Lockheed Martin, Medtronic (the world's largest medical device manufacturer), Northrop Grumman; and Meritec proudly serves all branches of Armed Forces. Meritec's newest Customer is a joint venture between Google and Johnson & Johnson emerging as Verb Surgical—highly anticipated digital surgery program to include advancements in robotics, visualization, instrumentation, data analytics, machine learning and connectivity to enable doctors to operate across the globe and into space. Join Team Meritec to champion cutting-edge technology!
